

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Break in the Fifteenth District Tammany Organization.

A. A. R. Men Protesting that They Are Frozen Out of Positions.

The break in the Tammany organization of the Fifteenth Assembly District, foreshadowed in the Evening World, has occurred sooner than was expected.

John McCoy and his friends on the District Committee two years ago defeated Alderman Richard J. Sullivan and forced him out of the district leadership. They have now organized a similar movement against District Leader William Dalton.

"We have formed a Tammany Home Rule Club," says McCoy. "The bosses imported a leader from another district, and he has been busy distributing patronage to people outside the Fifteenth."

"It's only a short time ago that Dalton's brother-in-law moved into the Fifteenth from the Ninth Ward, and he hadn't been there many weeks when he was appointed a policeman."

"We have a thousand young men in the district who would like to be policemen, and Dalton as a leader, ought to look after their interests rather than import strangers, secure their appointment and have them charged against the district."

"We've had too much of a carpet-bag leader, and we are going to 'down him'."

Plotting Against Judge Ingraham.

There have been lately recently that there will be a great deal of money put into the coming campaign to secure the defeat of Judge Ingraham should Tammany Hall nominate him for the Supreme Court Bench. A popular Republican, ex-surgate, Judge, it is held, will be the opposing candidate.

Judge Ingraham gave up seven years on the Superior Court. He is a popular figure, and his defeat would be a great loss to the city.

The contribution for election expenses required of a Tammany candidate for an important judgeship is said to be very large, and the loss of that, together with the salary of a superior judge, would amount to $100,000.

Freezing Out G. A. R. Men.

There is a great deal of grumbling in G. A. R. circles because many positions in the municipal service are allowed to remain vacant which would be filled with war veterans if the appointing power would only ask for certificates from the eligible civil-service list.

The old soldiers charge that names are not certified, because it is designed to give the places to certain political favorites, and that cannot be done so long as a veteran soldier is on the list.

"Tammany Hall is going to make a big splash over the election of a monument at Gettysburg," says a prominent G. A. R. man this morning. "It would be better to honor the living heroes, with the positions which it is purposely keeping them out of."

To Hear "The Centurion March."

Scattered by the thousand are expected to monopolize Manhattan Beach Friday night. At that occasion Gilmore's Band will give its last concert prior to a tour of camp duty at Peekskill with the Twenty-second Regiment.

The attraction to the scaterdies, however, is the fact that the band will play for the first time the new march, "The Centurion March."

Preceding this performance, Pat's, the famous man, will give an exhibition, which will include a variety of stunts, and will be created for the benefit of the visiting politicians.

Young Veterans Rapidly Organizing.

David N. Carvalho, President of the new Lexington Democratic Club, of Harlem, says that that body of young veterans will exercise considerable influence on the result of the coming election in the Twenty-third Assembly District. Its membership numbers 400 and is rapidly increasing.

Former Defeat for Tammany.

Alfred James Jacobson, recently chosen leader of the Virginia Democratic Club, in the Fifteenth Assembly District, says he will run again next fall and will defeat the Tammany candidate by a bigger majority than ever before, notwithstanding John Kelly's restoration to the Wigwam leadership.

TIM CAMPBELL'S EXCURSION.

The Oriental Club Will Have a Big Time Aug. 4.

An event of more than local import is announced in the following letter to the editor of THE EVENING WORLD:

DEAR SIR: I respectfully inclose an invitation for the annual excursion and dinner of the Oriental Club, which will be held on Sunday, August 4, at the Hotel Point Woods. I hope that you will honor us with your presence, as arrangements have been made to give our guests a day of rare enjoyment.

Yours truly, THOMAS J. CAMPBELL.

THE ALLEGED DIAMOND THEFT'S CASE GOES OVER A WEEK.

Testimony was taken in Jefferson Market Court this morning in the case of Robert Howe, charged with stealing $7,000 worth of diamonds from Carl Werneke, 10 and 12 West Twenty-eighth street.

TRAINMEN ALL HAPPY.

Their Picnic at Harlem River Park an Unqualified Success.

Officers of the Trainmen's Relief Association, Eastern Division, wear smiling faces to-day, and are being congratulated at every turn upon the success of the picnic at Butler's Harlem River Park last night.

The grounds were rocky from opening to close, and the association's death benefit fund is materially increased. The silk flag was in the breeze, and the trainmen were the most popular organization was a feature of the decorations.

The association is composed of Manhattan Elevated Railroad employees, and its membership is well up to the mark. The trustees are: Thomas J. Wright, President; Richard K. Chalmers, Secretary; and George Hoffman, Treasurer.

DO YOU LOVE PERFECT SODA WATER?

If so, stop at RIKER'S.

FOSTER MILLER'S.

A Tale of Two Brought Together by Tale Gossipers.

It was nearly service time on Sunday morning, and the church bells were tolling their cheerful welcome on the frosty air. Pious souls, clad in furs and velvets and other forms of modern purple and the linen, were hurrying to reach the scenes of their devotions.

Foster Millard was not a pious soul, and he was not hasty. He was not sure that he was going to church, and he had been sauntering leisurely along, with his hands in his overcoat pockets and his big collar turned high round his throat.

What a world it was, to be sure, and what a— but, pshaw!—that was all over now, and the glad day of it.

BROOKLYN'S ARTFUL DODGER.

Henry Eisenman Is Only Eleven Years Old and a Confirmed Thief.

"Wang" and the "Tar and Tartar" Drawing Largely.

Brooklyn has a little boy whose thieving propensities are a suggestive of the turtleneck of a pig, and who is as ungracious and audacious as Dickens's Artful Dodger.

Henry Eisenman is his name, and, although but a child in years, he is as base and hardened as an experienced crook.

A few days ago he robbed his venerable and indulgent grandfather, and as a result of this, his latest escapade, he was held for the Brooklyn Grand Jury in the Gates Avenue Police Court this morning.

Henry Eisenman is only eleven years old and he has been living at 226 Stockton street with an aunt. His father resides in New Jersey and his mother is dead.

Henry's aunt has been lenient with the boy in the hope that he might be brought by argument and good counsel to see the error of his ways, but she is now convinced that it is beyond her power to reform him.

Henry is a little kleptomaniac. On no other subject has he been so thoroughly conversant. He has a list of things which he cannot possibly have any use, and the temptation to cram other people's property into his pockets never waits for opportunity nor seeks it.

When Henry sees anything he wants, he takes it. If it is too heavy to be carried off, he presents it in the neighborhood of a policeman, and wouldn't prevent his attempts to steal.

On Friday last Henry entered his grandfather's sleeping-room and seeing a diamond ring and a gold watch lying on the dresser he picked them up and put them in his pockets. Then he took $50 from his grandfather's vest and made his escape.

Henry's mother, who is a widow, went to the police station and reported the loss. The following day her whereabouts were discovered and Henry was arrested.

Henry's mother, who is a widow, went to the police station and reported the loss. The following day her whereabouts were discovered and Henry was arrested.

Henry's mother, who is a widow, went to the police station and reported the loss. The following day her whereabouts were discovered and Henry was arrested.

SPORTS GATHER IN ST. PAUL.

Interest in To-morrow Night's Fight Chiefly in the West.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

ST. PAUL, July 21.—The Fitzsimmons-Hall fight to-morrow night cannot now be postponed. Fitzsimmons' appeal to the United States Supreme Court, which was made last night, has been refused.

The fight will take place at the Auditorium, and will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

The fight will be a great event for the city. The interest in the fight is chiefly in the West.

CHANGES AT THE THEATRES.

The "Grand Duchess" Holds Sway at the Casino.

"Wang" and the "Tar and Tartar" Drawing Largely.

The near departure of the airy fairy Lillian from the Casino causes her countless admirers to fill the Aronson's pretty house at every performance of the "Grand Duchess."

The roof garden has lost none of its attractiveness either, and all in all, the Casino firmly holds its place in the hearts of amusement lovers.

The superb mounting of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne. There will be real sorrow when the "Grand Duchess" ends its present run.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

SPORTING NEWS AND NOTES.

McAniff Puts Up His Forefeet to Fight Gibbons.

Slavin Predicts Fitzsimmons's Defeat in the Fight with Hall.

New York would gladly reverse the result of yesterday's game in Brooklyn if giving up its victory would restore the injured arm of Walter McGowan.

The roof garden has lost none of its attractiveness either, and all in all, the Casino firmly holds its place in the hearts of amusement lovers.

The superb mounting of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne. There will be real sorrow when the "Grand Duchess" ends its present run.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the comedienne.

The rattle chairs and the artificially cooled air make the Broadway one of the pleasantest places in New York these nights, and the performance of the "Grand Duchess" is a feature that interests visitors almost as much as the stately beauty of Miss Russell and the comic antics of the